Our Unique Painting Process

At KWP, we take pride in delivering a low-maintenance, esthetically pleasing product. Our painting process plays a huge role in providing the authentic look of wood without any of the upkeep.

Here’s our secret:

- A sealant is applied at the pressing of the panel, ensuring superior adhesion between our first coat of primer and the substrate.
- Next, we have our 3-coat painting process: 1 coat of primer and 2 top coats. We use an industrial exterior latex paint, formulated specifically for our application process.
- State-of-the-art temperature controlled drying equipments are used versus oven-baked. This is key to avoid damages to the paint film.
